

The SAVI Community Information System

Michelle Derr

Liberal Arts

The SAVI Community Information System (www.savi.org) is a dynamic and interactive resource for local, spatially-enabled data and information about Central Indiana. It provides local data about the social, economic, and physical conditions of neighborhoods, townships, and counties, and other geographic areas such as school districts which is then summarized into community profiles and allows users to view and analyze detailed data in interactive maps, charts, and tables.